QuinStreet Announces Fiscal Fourth Quarter and Fiscal Year 2010 Results Company Posts 31% Growth: 22% Adjusted EBITDA Margin

Foster City, CA — August 9, 2010 — QuinStreet, Inc. (NASDAQ: QNST), a leader in vertical marketing and media online, today announced its financial results for the fiscal fourth quarter and fiscal year ended June 30, 2010.

For the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2010, the Company reported total revenue of $88.5 million, an increase of 31% over the fourth quarter of fiscal 2009. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2010, the Company reported total revenue of $334.8 million, an increase of 29% over fiscal 2009.

The Company reported net income of $6.4 million, or $0.13 per diluted common share, for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2010. Adjusted net income for the quarter was $11.6 million, or $0.24 per diluted common share. Adjusted net income excludes stock-based compensation expense and amortization of intangible assets, net of estimated tax.

Revenue for the Financial Services client vertical was $38.7 million for the fiscal fourth quarter, an increase of 76% as compared to the same quarter of fiscal 2009. Revenue for the Education client vertical was $37.3 million for the fiscal fourth quarter, a decrease of 5% as compared to the year-ago quarter. Revenue in the Education client vertical grew 15% excluding changes in revenue from a large education client undergoing a previously disclosed change in their online marketing strategy. Revenue for Other client verticals was $12.6 million for the fiscal fourth quarter, an increase of 96% as compared to the year-ago quarter.

Adjusted EBITDA for the quarter was $19.9 million, or 22% of revenue. It was $71.4 million, or 21% of revenue, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2010.

Reconciliations of adjusted net income to net income, adjusted EBITDA to net income, and free cash flow to net cash provided by operating activities are included in the accompanying tables.

"We are pleased to have delivered our third consecutive quarter with year-over-year revenue growth of 30% or more. Revenue grew significantly in all verticals, but for one client," commented Doug Valenti, QuinStreet CEO. "Financial Services continues to grow rapidly and is now our largest vertical. Education client demand is at record levels as we are benefiting from a 'flight to quality' driven by regulatory scrutiny and change, and as clients anticipate and adapt to new higher standards.

"We continued to spend aggressively on the development of new capabilities and future growth opportunities in the quarter, while delivering EBITDA margins above target levels. Fiscal 2010 was our eighth straight year of strong growth and strong, consistent profitability. We look forward to many more. QuinStreet has never had stronger client demand, visitor traffic or competitive advantages. We are more excited than ever about the size and attractiveness of our markets.

"We remain confident in our long-term guidance of 15-20% annual growth and 20% EBITDA margins, and we expect to meet or exceed those rates of growth and profitability in the coming year," concluded Valenti.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This release and the accompanying tables include a discussion of adjusted EBITDA, adjusted net income, adjusted diluted net income per share and free cash flow, all of which are non-GAAP financial measures that are provided as a complement to results provided in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). The term "adjusted EBITDA" refers to a financial measure that we define as net income less provision for taxes, depreciation expense, amortization expense, stock-based compensation expense, interest and other income (expense), net. The term "adjusted net income" refers to a financial measure that we define as net income adjusted for amortization expense and stock-based compensation expense, net of taxes. The term "adjusted diluted net income per share" refers to a financial measure that we define as adjusted net income divided by weighted average diluted shares outstanding. The term "free cash flow" refers to a financial measure that we define as net cash provided by operating activities, less capital expenditures and internal software development costs. These non-GAAP measures should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, GAAP results. In addition, our definition of adjusted EBITDA, adjusted net income, adjusted diluted net income per share and free cash flow may not be comparable to the definitions as reported by other companies.

We believe adjusted EBITDA, adjusted net income, adjusted diluted net income per share and free cash flow are relevant and useful information because they provide us and investors with additional measurements to analyze the Company's operating performance.

Adjusted EBITDA is part of our internal management reporting and planning process and one of the primary measures used by our management to evaluate the operating performance of our business, as well as potential acquisitions. Adjusted EBITDA is useful to us and investors because it provides information related to the Company's ability to provide cash flow for acquisitions, capital expenditures and working capital requirements. Internally, adjusted EBITDA is used by management for planning purposes, including preparation of internal budgets; to allocate resources to enhance financial performance; to evaluate the effectiveness of operational strategies; and to evaluate the Company's capacity to fund acquisitions and capital expenditures as well as the capacity to service debt. Adjusted EBITDA is used as a key financial metric in senior management's annual incentive compensation program. The Company believes that analysts and investors use adjusted EBITDA as a supplemental measure to evaluate the overall operating performance of companies in its industry and use adjusted EBITDA multiples as a metric for analyzing company valuations. It is also an element of certain maintenance covenants under our debt agreements.

Adjusted net income and adjusted diluted net income per share are useful to us and investors because they present an additional measurement of our financial performance, taking into account depreciation, which we believe is an ongoing cost of doing business, but excluding the impact of certain non-cash expenses (stock-based compensation and amortization of intangible assets). The Company believes that analysts and investors use adjusted net income and adjusted diluted net income per share as supplemental measures to evaluate the overall operating performance of companies in our industry.

Free cash flow is useful to us and investors because it represents the cash that our operating business generates, before taking into account cash movements that are non-operational, and is a metric commonly used in our industry to understand the underlying cash generating capacity of a company's financial model. The Company believes that analysts and investors use free cash flow multiples as a metric for analyzing company valuations in our industry. Free cash flow has certain limitations in that it does not represent the total increase or decrease in the cash balance for the period, nor does it represent the residual cash flow for discretionary expenditures. Therefore, we think it is important to evaluate free cash flow along with our consolidated statement of cash flows.

We intend to provide these non-GAAP financial measures as part of our future earnings discussions and, therefore, the inclusion of these non-GAAP financial measures will provide consistency in our financial reporting. A reconciliation of these non-GAAP measures to GAAP is provided in the accompanying tables.
