MoneyRates.com offers assistance to consumers making significant financial decisions by undertaking research and providing insights into how to plan for and finance personal goals. Consumer World Awards® recognized the MoneyRates.com study "The Best States for Healthcare 2019" for its excellence in helping consumers. For this study, MoneyRates.com assessed seven aspects of healthcare in the United States: health-insurance coverage, longevity, child-vaccination coverage, infant survival, nursing-home capacity, hospital capacity, and patient-care doctors per capita.

The results of "The Best States for Healthcare 2019" study are presented in an easy-to-use interactive map showing the rankings of each state. A comparison tool expands to show each of the underlying categories that make up the state's ranking. Consumers can compare up to three states at a time by selecting alternatives from a dropdown menu or the interactive map.

The report also offers tips designed to help individuals understand financial concepts that can help them reduce capital outlays or use financial products to help them save money more efficiently for healthcare and retirement at the same time.

"We are delighted to be recognized by Consumer World Awards®," says Richard Barrington, MoneyRates.com's personal finance expert. "Our goal is to help educate consumers about personal finance so they have the information they need to make important decisions. It's rewarding to know that our efforts are making a difference."
