Item 7.01 — Regulation FD Disclosure

There have been press and online reports of a recent significant change to Google’s organic search algorithm, and on its effects on web sites and companies. Some of our sites have been mentioned.

While our strategy has been, and continues to be, to provide internet users with high quality, relevant and responsive content in our verticals, the rankings and traffic of some of our sites have been negatively affected by the recent change. Also, not surprisingly, given our strategy and breadth of our portfolio, some of our sites have also benefited from the change.

We have completed an initial assessment of the impact on our business. We do not expect a material negative effect on our financial results, or on our ability to meet client demand. Our outlook and guidance are unchanged.
